MONTPELIER

Judge Wendell P. Stafford to Be Chief Speaker at Greater Vermont Meeting.

Directors of the Montpelier Board of Trade met last evening with Secretary Taylor of the Greater Vermont association and discussed matters relative to the annual meeting of the association to be held in Montpelier July 12-13. Judge Wendell P. Stafford of Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at the banquet to be held the evening of the 12th, at which covers will be laid for nearly 1,000 people and Gen. Leonard Wood is expected to be present. Others prominent in the public eye who have signified their intentions of becoming guests of the association during the meeting are John Barrett, who was chairman of the Pan-American congress, President Hustis of the Boston & Maine railroad, and President Smith of the Central Vermont railroad. H. J. Conant of the local board of trade is corresponding with the New England Passenger association relative to rates to the meeting.

William Young, a self-confessed participant in a pool room quarrel a few nights ago, pleaded guilty to breach of the peace in night city court last evening and arranged to pay a fine of $1 and costs. Young, it was alleged, and the respondent agreed with the prosecuting officer, struck one Charles Lapan.

Mrs. M. S. Stone left yesterday afternoon for Brooklyn, N. Y., for a visit with relatives.

Chief Justice Loveland Munson of the supreme court left this forenoon for his home in Manchester, having stayed in the city since adjournment of court last week.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Sullivan were held at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Augustine's church, the pastor, Rev. P. J. Long, celebrating the mass. The bearers were George McGrath, Orville Pine, William N. Theriault and Lucius Stone. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. The remains arrived in the city last evening from New York City, accompanied by her husband, William Sullivan; her sister, Mrs. William Joyal, and mother, Mrs. Charles Fountain, the body being taken to Mrs. Joyal's home, 4 Miles court.

The remains of Mark D. Fowler, who passed away at Worcester, Mass., Monday morning, arrived last evening and were removed to the home, 176 Main street. The funeral will be held tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock from Christ church, with burial in Green Mount cemetery.

Miss A. Alda Turney of Montpelier, who was graduated from Montpelier seminary in the class of 1915, and who has recently been graduated with high honors from the Leland Powers school in Boston, is to give a recital in the chapel at Montpelier seminary on Wednesday evening, May 17, at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Turney will give a selection of miscellaneous readings and also scenes from Shakespeare. She will be assisted by Miss Flora M. Boyce of Waterbury, a graduate of Montpelier seminary in the class of 1915 and at present organist at Trinity church, Montpelier.

15,000 PERSONS GATHER FOR TEXAS LYNCHING

Negro Boy Who Confessed Murder, Was Burned to Death on Public Square.

Waco, Texas, May 16.—With fifteen thousand persons as witnesses, including women and children, Jesse Washington, negro boy, who confessed to the criminal assaulting and murder of Mrs. Lucy Fryar, seven miles south of here, last Monday afternoon, was taken from the fifth district court room shortly before noon yesterday and burned to death on the public square.

The burning came immediately after the negro's trial had ended. The jury had returned a verdict of guilty, giving him the death penalty. Then some one started the cry of "Get the negro." It was quickly taken up by all of those from that party of the county where Mrs. Fryar was killed and Washington was then seized.

The mob at first seemed willing to hang the negro from the suspension bridge but a suggestion that he be burned on the plaza met with instant response. He was dragged to the city hall yard, where the chain, already around his neck, was thrown over the limb of a tree, wood piled around him and the fire started.

A Dangerous Test.

"How can one determine whether a man is neutral or not?" asked the teacher.

"Kick him," suggested Mickey Flynn. "If he knocks yer block off—he ain't."

—Judge.

Regular meeting of the ladies' auxiliary to Clan Gordon will be held to-night at 7:15 o'clock.

The D. A. Perry Real Estate agency has sold for D. D. Adams of Marshfield his farm in Plainfield, known as the Dwell farm and situated about three miles from Plainfield on the river road. The purchaser is Allen H. Carter of West Topsham. Mr. Adams takes over the village property in West Topsham owned by Mr. Carter and known as the Chalmers property as part of the purchase price, which is said to be nearly $7,000. Mr. Carter will take possession of the farm within the next two weeks and expects to make extensive repairs on the buildings in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will probably move to West Topsham within a few days.

PLAN TO REPORT BRANDEIS WITHOUT RECOMMENDATION

Rumor That Judiciary Committee Will Put Case Directly to the Whole Senate.

Washington, May 16.—Louis D. Brandeis' nomination to the supreme court was discussed again yesterday by the Senate judiciary committee in executive session and the senators present were bound to secrecy. The report was current, and generally credited, that the committee had decided to report the nomination without a recommendation, and let the Senate deal with it entirely.

Timothy Makela of Granville pleaded guilty to a first offense of intoxication in city court this morning and paid the minimum fine and costs aggregating $6.30. Makela was arrested last night.

An automobile party of four Rutland business men, George C. Underhill, S. H. Smith, J. A. Merrill and Frank D. Merrill, came over the mountain yesterday and registered at Hotel Barre last night.

Rev. Edgar Crossland of Wolfington street will leave the city by automobile late this afternoon for West Barre, where he is to deliver a stereotypical lecture in the Presbyterian church this evening. His subject is to be "The Nations at War."

F. O. Lee, superintendent of the city water department, and Alderman J. A. Healy, chairman of the aldermanic water committee, returned to the city yesterday from Boston, where they conferred with engineers of the New England Insurance Exchange, who recently applied the efficiency test to Barre's water and fire protection systems.

On account of the preferential primary the saloons in Barre were closed to-day. For the reason that the primary polls did not open until noon, it was thought that under the law the leverage parlors might not close until the election officially began. Counsel having been sought in the matter, it was decided that the intent of the law dictated that the saloons should not be open at all during the day. A forward looking dealer in bar varnish has reckoned that there are five election days in 1916.

Last week the Standard Oil Co.'s pressure sprinkler entered the state and dashed the first coating of oil on the streets of Rutland. Working northward, it is expected that the sprinkler will arrive in Washington county in the latter part of this week. Streets in Barre, Montpelier and Northfield are to be sprinkled by the Standard Oil Co. this season as the result of contracts made with the company's representative while he made a trip through the county early in the spring. An expensive sprinkling equipment for oil was purchased by the city a few years ago and attached to the sprinkler, but the city equipment is to be in partial disuse this year while the pressure sprinkling is tried as an experiment.

A. G. Nelson, who, with Mrs. Nelson, left last week for Woodbury, where they are to have charge of the Woodbury Lake house this season, has procured from the state fish hatchery in Swanton 300,000 white perch fry that have been placed in the pond. In years past the stocking of the pond has been somewhat neglected, but the purpose of Mr. Nelson is to restore the little lake in public favor as one of the better fishing grounds in this section of Vermont. Fish abound in Woodbury pond, but it is proposed to make a consistent policy of restocking until the entire fish population is expected that a consignment of pike perch will be received at the lake within a few weeks. Mr. Nelson states that several cottages are being erected at the pond this season.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday and to-day were the following people: A. H. Britton of White River Junction, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Jones of Burlington, Miss Ruth Tracy of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tracy of Shelburne, O. E. Nelson of Worcester, Mass., Soules of Roxbury, H. B. Sellow of Burlington, James E. Bemis of Keene, N. H., W. H. Randolph of Lansing, Mich., H. P. Oliver of St. Johnsbury, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barr of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., George C. Underhill, S. H. Smith, J. A. Merrill and Frank D. Two teams signaled their entry into the race for the amateur baseball championship of the city by coming together at the Berlin street field yesterday when the Deacons defeated the Bar Flies, 9 to 7. Sassi and J. Tomasi were in the points for the winners and Williams, Burke, Ingram and Massie did the battery work for the defeated team. Home runs by Burke and Bianchi and Ossola's three-put were features.

Norway spruces brought to the city Sunday morning from the Totnam nursery in Randolph were divided yesterday, the water department taking 5,000 seedlings, while 3,000 went to the park commission and the remnant to the cemetery commission. The work of setting out the spruces assigned to the water department began at Orange reservoir to-day. The park commissioners and the superintendent of cemeteries are getting their share of the transplants into the ground as rapidly as possible.

Goddard seminary won its second game of the Massachusetts-New Hampshire trip yesterday by defeating St. Anselm's college at Manchester, N. H., by the score of 7 to 1. "The visitors batted clean and hard while St. Anselm's could do but little with Davidson," is the explanation given by a Manchester dispatch to a Boston newspaper. Goddard is credited with 10 hits, as against four for the collegians. To-morrow the seminary team plays the Dartmouth freshmen at Hanover, N. H., and after that the team will leave for home, arriving here Thursday morning.

Having grown callous to the unfriendly attitude of the weather man, as manifested in the past, Washington county veterans of the Spanish-American war had not thought of postponing their picnic at Caledonia park to-day. The outing marked the 18th anniversary of the mustering-in of the 1st Vermont regiment in 1898. It was expected that fifty veterans from Barre, Montpelier and Northfield would assemble at the park. Most of the members of the county association who reside in Barre did not go to the park until noon, when a dinner was served in the park pavilion. This afternoon the baseball game for the Carswell cup was scheduled.
